La Familia Speaking Project Rubric

STUDENT REFLECTION

	Exceeds Expectations	Meets Expectations	Partially Meets Expectations	Not Meeting Expectations
Description The meaning of what you say	A wide variety of sentences about several people, including things they like AND what they look like	A few things about 2-3 people. Includes at least one thing they like and a few sentences about how they look.	Describing fewer than 2 people. Saying ONLY things they like or ONLY looks.	Very few sentences about very few people.
Full sentences	Each thought is a full sentence, but also the variety of sentences and using y to connect sentences.	Each thought is a full sentence, using words like es, tiene, me gusta or others as needed.	Some thoughts are full sentences, but some are expressed with individual words used on their own.	A series of individual words; no full sentences.
Pronunciation Saying the sounds of all the words correctly	Pronunciation has very few errors (0-2). You have remembered to pronounce every vowel. You used natural expression and feeling in your speaking.	Pronunciation has only a handful of errors. All vowels are pronounced. Even if it's not perfect, a listener can understand what you are trying to say with no trouble.	Pronunciation has enough errors that it is hard for the listener to understand the meaning.	Pronunciation is largely not understood.
Visuals Photos, drawings or video clips	Has a wide variety of visuals to support descriptions.	Has at least one visual per person described (photo or detailed drawing).	Has basic visual (like stick drawings) or only has visuals for some of the people described.	No visuals.
Accuracy Saying the right words in the right order	Very few errors (0-2).	A handful of errors, but the listener can still understand what you are trying to say with no trouble.	Enough errors that it is hard for the listener to understand what you are trying to say.	So many errors that it is very hard to understand.
All in Spanish	--	Yes	--	No

La Familia Speaking Project Rubric

TEACHER FEEDBACK

FILL OUT FOR TEACHER:

What are the names of all your project files?

Where are they saved?

Anything else you need me to know?

	Exceeds Expectations	Meets Expectations	Partially Meets Expectations	Not Meeting Expectations
Description The meaning of what you say	A wide variety of sentences about several people, including things they like AND what they look like	A few things about 2-3 people. Includes at least one thing they like and a few sentences about how they look.	Describing fewer than 2 people. Saying ONLY things they like or ONLY looks.	Very few sentences about very few people.
Full sentences	Each thought is a full sentence, but also the variety of sentences and using y to connect sentences.	Each thought is a full sentence, using words like es, tiene, me gusta or others as needed.	Some thoughts are full sentences, but some are expressed with individual words used on their own.	A series of individual words; no full sentences.
Pronunciation Saying the sounds of all the words correctly	Pronunciation has very few errors (0-2). You have remembered to pronounce every vowel. You used natural expression and feeling in your speaking.	Pronunciation has only a handful of errors. All vowels are pronounced. Even if it's not perfect, a listener can understand what you are trying to say with no trouble.	Pronunciation has enough errors that it is hard for the listener to understand the meaning.	Pronunciation is largely not understood.
Visuals Photos, drawings or video clips	Has a wide variety of visuals to support descriptions.	Has at least one visual per person described (photo or detailed drawing).	Has basic visual (like stick drawings) or only has visuals for some of the people described.	No visuals.
Accuracy Saying the right words in the right order	Very few errors (0-2).	A handful of errors, but the listener can still understand what you are trying to say with no trouble.	Enough errors that it is hard for the listener to understand what you are trying to say.	So many errors that it is very hard to understand.
All in Spanish	--	Yes	--	No

TEACHER COMMENTS: